

Why purchase your hardwood lumber from Windhorse?

1. Superior Quality

Our lumber is sawed on a bandsaw mill at 1 ¼" (for 4/4 lumber), air dried to 15-25%, then kiln dried to 7-9% in a low temperature wood-fired dehumidification kiln. This is a slow process, but the reward is in the quality of the wood itself. It hasn't been hurried and it hasn't been 'cooked'.

2. More Wood

Because we saw our lumber thicker than other mills, there is more wood to work with, assuring that you can get extra thickness for your special jobs.

3. Some of the process has already been done

After the wood comes out of the kiln, it is face jointed, edge jointed, dressed to a full 1" (for 4/4 lumber) and ripped on ½" increments. So in addition to getting more wood, some of the jointing and dressing has already been done at no extra cost to you.

4. Ease in selecting the wood

Because our hardwood lumber has already been jointed and dressed (to oversize dimensions) you can easily see what you are getting.

5. Personal Service

We are a small shop with large and interesting inventory. Our small size means each of our customers receive personal attention.

6. Expert Advice

Our experienced woodworkers can advise you on all aspects of buying and using specialty woods—whether or not our advice results in a sale.

7. Ecological & Social Practices

You can feel comfortable with our social and ecological principles and practices because Windhorse Farm holds the two highest sustainability certifications in the world—FSC and Nagaya.

Come walk in our heritage forest, certified by Nagaya and SmartWood to meet the standards of the Forest Stewardship Council for responsible forestry.
